Karur:
The home of home textiles:

What Tirupur is to knits, is Karur to home textiles. Known as the home textile city of India, Karur remains as a major sourcing centre for home textile and commercially used textile accessories, technologies, machineries and spares.

Technology and machinery to keep progressing with time:

Technology is a major factor in giving sudden twists in the quantum and quality of manufactured goods. Major investments on technology can go in for a wider range of products in different kinds of fabrics to a larger market. Opting for the latest equipment and state-of-the-art machinery, Karur has, in recent times, increased its buying strength. Tex Tech Show helps in coping up with the buying demands of the industry.

TEX Tech Show 2011

A gate way to
market:

This show is being held right in the corridor of export and domestic market for the home textile and made-up industry. With a flurry of business activities in the export and domestic market, Tex Tech Show at Karur expects a large number of participants not only from Karur but also from the neighbouring business centres like Madurai, Coimbatore, Tirupur, Erode, Salem and Kerala, making it a major trade event in the city and preparing the industry for a great boom in the months to come.

THE ORGANIZERS

With a definite purpose and a deep foresight that grew almost in to a great vision. City Leaves today enjoys the covetable position of a Business catalyst, providing a common platform for manufacturers, dealers, distributors, support service companies to explore and promote opportunities in the world of textiles - garments, accessories, fabrics, process and machineries.

Promoted by City Leaves, a potential media house in the textile hub of Tirupur, Knit Show, India Fashion Focus, Tex Tech Show are major trade exhibitions, creating business forums for bringing manufacturers, distributors, retailers, accessories and machinery dealers together for useful trade interactions and sharing knowledge and experience for coping up with the phenomenal boom in the textile, apparel and fashion industry in the national as well as international level. The organizers have been holding trade exhibitions in major cities successfully over 10 years and have amply proved their mettle as catalyzing and revitalizing agents in turning the industry into an organized society capable of exploring together the new opportunities opened out in the wake of global liberalization.

Besides being trade fair organizers, City Leaves have brought out over 16th editions of Garment Directory, a useful referral work with valuable information including comprehensive details and data of manufacturers, exporters, buying houses, job works, processing houses, printing houses and everything related to garment making.

With the unstinted and collective efforts of the textile and fashion industrial society, growing together towards a sparkling future is no longer a dream.
